

Prevailing Wage: Compliance, Contracts, Cost Savings

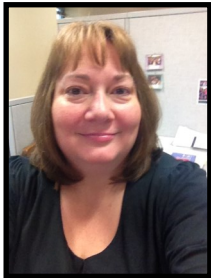

Join ABC for an educational event focusing on prevailing wage and fringe benefits!

Tuesday, October 25, 2016 from 4pm–7pm

Associated Builders and Contractors—2201 NE Columbia Blvd

This event is complimentary for both members and non-members!

Susan Wooley—Bureau of Labor and Industry (BOLI)

As the Prevailing Wage Rate Technical Assistance Coordinator for the past 13 years, Susan oversees BOLI's prevailing wage rate (PWR) law education program, giving seminars on PWR law to contractors and public agencies. Prior to this position, she was a compliance specialist with the PWR unit for 5 years, investigating complaints of PWR law violations, and instructing contractors and public agencies on how to stay in compliance with the law.

Amanda Gamblin— Schwabe, Williamson, & Wyatt

Employment Group co-leader Amanda Gamblin offers practical advice for the unique employment issues that arise in the technology, construction and maritime industries. Her advice integrates complex and often contradictory legal requirements with the business realities facing a workforce that may be deployed for extended periods, seasonal or transitory, safety-conscious, or demanding of unprecedented flexibility.

Joe Baker—Fringe Benefit Group

Joe Baker is the Regional Sales Director for Fringe Benefit Group. For more than 30 years, Fringe Benefit Group (FBG) has designed programs including The Contractors Plan and The American Worker that simplify the benefits administration process. For companies with hourly workers, FBG offers a wide range of solutions from the nation's leading health and retirement carriers, and FBG is known as being experts in compliance and ethics, with tools and support services that greatly reduce the burden of plan enrollment and administration.

Questions? Contact Laurie Kendall at (503) 726-5440 or lkendall@abcpnw.org
Ready to RSVP? Contact Cassie Miller at (503) 726-5441 or cmiller@abcpnw.org